WELCOME MESSAGE

Dear colleagues and friends,

The fourth annual Indo US foot and ankle conference will be very interesting and highly academic. Many ankle fractures are not properly treated and many Lisfranc's injuries remain undiagnosed. The aim of this course is to disseminate and share techniques in foot and ankle surgery with surgeons from India, South Asia, and the USA. Academically rich events will be held on the 18th, 19th, and 20th of January 2013. Live surgeries, video demonstrations on techniques, as well as lectures and workshops will fill this weekend with ample opportunity to learn the finer elements of foot and ankle. There will be "camp-fire" sessions to present your own challenging cases and get the feedback of the esteemed faculty.

Kolkata will provide the backdrop for this meeting. This city is situated on the bank of the river Hooghly (Ganges) and has a great cultural heritage with its location in the eastern region of India. We thank the Parekh Family Foundation for organizing this course and helping to elevate the awareness of foot and ankle care throughout India.

We hope to see you from all corners of India to help and make this course a grand success. Please plan for it now. Mark your calendars and register as an early bird for this excellent course.
